Whistler hosts successful BC Team on snow camp

Coach Munny Munroe and Graham Maclean skiing at Whistler Olympic Park November 10, 2014 under sunny skies. Whistler opened a 2km loop with snow they stored over the summer.

Just after Whistler spread the snow and groomed the track the temperature dropped to -10 C overnight...yes - 10 C (I didn't believe it at first either) The cold temperatures provided great ski conditions for the BC Team on snow camp.

Project "Callaghan Gold" has been a success, it will provide great training for the local athletes until more snow arrives which is in the forecast.

Well Done Whistler!

Next week snow is forecast almost everyday

This photo is from last year with Phil Youwe (Sun Peaks Nordic Manager) and happy trail host skiing by his side.

I know many people wait to register until they see snow on the ground and guaranteed skiing before they register for the camps. That is why I have extended the saving by one week, you now have to November 23 to save. I guarantee we will be skiing.

Remember it only takes one good snowfall and Nordic trails will open.

Question: Who are the three athletes in the photos you can see in my wax room? Hint, two are Olympic Champions and one is a 2x World Champion.
